

Precis:

Patients with metastatic melanoma who are hepatitis B negative and HIV negative will be immunized with a recombinant fowlpox virus encoding the gp100 melanoma antigen. This study will evaluate the toxicity, immunologic effects and potential therapeutic role of this immunization alone or in conjunction with the administration of interleukin-2.